TECNOMAR 120, A VELVET TOUCH

The powerful contours of the Tecnomar Velvet 120 are aggressive and stylish yet simple. The bright red hull and the metallic gray superstructure add a modern and contemporary touch to the entire yacht. Meanwhile, the interior design draws inspiration from the 17th centuries and imitates the Boulle technique, which takes its name from André-Charles Boulle, the famous cabinetmaker who invented this distinctive style by decorating furniture with metal, brass and tortoiseshell inlays. Inside you will find a luxury salon where everything is shiny, from the lacquered ceiling panels to the Padoux floorings made of prestigious wooden beams, chosen for their bright red color. On the sides of the salon there are two glittering sofas in golden fabric that have been custom-made for the client, and four statues stand next to the sofas representing two half-length figures and two bronze woman statue candlestick holders. This gold theme is found throughout the luxurious yacht, and in the VIP cabin 4,000 Swarovski crystals made the room sparkle. In the middle of the hull, the master cabin covers the entire length of the craft and is equipped with a Jacuzzi. The conventional shafting system engines are 2 MTU 2880 hp, series 396, and the estimated speed is 29/33 knots.

ROYAL MARINE ADDS TO THE OFFERING

Royal Marine welcomes two new yachts to its illustrious collection. A Rodman 54 Muse and an Absolute 47 are on their way to Dubai and will be available for viewing by appointment. The Muse 54 is the result of collaboration between the Rodman Polyships shipbuilding team and the Ital Design studio of the Italian designer Fulvio de Simoni. It is the first model in the Rodman Muse flybridge range, which will eventually stretch to 108 feet. The Absolute 47 captures performance and is first-rate in regards to space/habitability.

Thanks to the hard top, the 47 offers the versatility of total freedom yet with privacy. In accordance with Dubai's market, the lengths of these two yachts are in keeping with what is popular here. Yet they are quite different in what they offer, thus will appeal to the differing needs of clients.

NICHE TEXTILES OFFER LUXURY

UK-based Marina Mill firmly believes that practicality is no excuse for bad taste, thus they have introduced Outline, their new outdoor furnishing fabric manufactured with practicality in mind. Creating textiles for over 40 years, Marina Mill realises that the marine industry needs an exterior fabric that is both practical and gorgeous, and that there needn't be a trade-off between the two. The furnishing fabric gracing a yacht's deck should be functional and hard-wearing, able to cope with anything an adventurous captain or owner throws at it. But the fabrics should also be soft, glamorous and a pleasure to sit on. Outline is the newest addition to the EXTEX range of exterior fabrics designed and produced by Marina Mill and enthusiastically adopted by the yachting industry. EXTEX Outline is a dual-coloured, fine-ribbed chenille.

Available in 21 luscious pairings, Outline coordinates with the 34 EXTEX Mull shades already available (Mull, the original EXTEX fabric, is a solid-coloured chenille).
